Both Jazzbeginners with the little experience and those, who have the advanced level, may take part in the workshop. All the participants have to be able to read the notes, play simple jazz-standards and blues and have the basic knowledge of the chords. The emphasis is made on the intensive instrumental lessons in classes, lessons in theory and playing in a Combo and in a big band, where the separate pieces under the assistant professors' help are to be trained and at the final concerts will be performed. The breadth of the band repertoire moves from bebop to the modern forms of Jazz like funk or fusion. The vocalists will have three own rhythmsections at their disposal. The concerts of the assistant professors and jamsessions will take place.

Every participant has to bring his instrument. Guitar- and bass amplifiers, pianos and drums are also at the disposal of the participants. Those, who cannot bring their own drumsets, have to take with them cymbles, snare drums and drum stands if possible.
